

SPARTANS BEATEN!

Toy Pile Hop Thursday

Press Club Sponsoring Gift Dance

Again as last year, the Press club will sponsor its Toy Pile Dance to climax the annual Christmas Toy Pile to collect presents for those who need help.

Music for the dance, to be held in the Women's gym Thursday afternoon from four to six, will be furnished through the courtesy of Mr. Adolph W. Otterstein and the Music department, as that department's contribution to the Toy Pile.

ADMISSION BY TOY

Admission to this Yuletide celebration will be by a toy, preferably. Otherwise, according to Ben Johnson, chairman, the charge will be 10 cents per person. Johnson states that all money over and above expenses will be turned over to a committee and additional toys will be purchased.

The tree, with all the toys, will be moved to the gym for decorative purposes, as well as to receive additional to contributions. Later the gifts will be sorted out and turned over to charity organizations down town. Broken toys will be turned over to the Fire department.

FLASH! At this moment a huge bag full of various toys has just been brought in. The pile is growing!

ROOM FOR MORE

As for the collections so far, they are shaping up pretty good. There are drums, games, dolls, blocks, scrapbooks—oh, just lots of things. Even Ferdinand the Bull has his little corral under the tree.

But there is room for many more—many, many more. And many more are needed to make this the hugest pile of toys ever collected. Come, come now, nothing is ever done so well but what it could be done better. Bear down for five minutes and see what can be done.

The tree itself looks very imposing. A tiny white cross on top gives the thing purity. The toys underneath give it purpose. Decorations give it color, and P. G. & E. gives it light. Come and see it, with a toy.

As an added attraction to the entertainment, Tommy Gifford, well known campus crooner, will aid this contribution in the form of a couple of songs.

Plans for contributions to the Press club Toy Pile were discussed by members of the Sophomore class at the class meeting held Friday noon.

Election of officers had been scheduled, but due to lack of attendance this was postponed until the meeting tomorrow. At this same time the toys will be collected. Officials of the class decided that regardless of how many attend the meeting tomorrow, officers will be elected.

NO PRUNE BOWL??

With the defeat of the Spartans in the Hawaiian Islands, indications were that there would be no Prune Bowl game for the State gridgers.

Clyde McDonald, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who has been handling negotiations, refused to either affirm or deny that the post-season affair was to be called off.

Graduate Manager Gil Bishop could not be reached for a statement yesterday, but unofficial comments from other sources seem to show that the game would not be held.

Another pointer was the fact that both Creighton University of Omaha and Rutgers of New Brunswick turned down bids to play in San Jose.

Winning Streak Ended By Deans In Poi Bowl 13-12

By BEN JOHNSON

Sparta's mighty grid machine was tumbled from the ranks of the nation's undefeated and untied elevens Saturday as a revengeful group of University of Hawaii pigskin artists wrought death and destruction to the Gold and White to the tune of 13 to 12.

Burning under the sting of three consecutive years of San Jose

State mastery of "Poi Bowl" games, Otto Klum's Rainbows put on a show before the Island Shriners that ended a Spartan winning streak of thirteen games which extended back into last season.

All of the scoring was done in the first half with the Dean's making the first score on a pass from Joe Kaulukukui to Cockett. The second Rainbow touchdown came when Kaulukukui intercepted a Spartan lateral on his own ten yard line and ran the entire length of the field for the twelfth point. Cockett converted what proved to be the winning digit.

San Jose's opening score came on a pass from Leroy Zimmerman to Morris Manoogian. Manoogian's

Tribute Paid Verse Choir By Educator

The fame of the San Jose State college Verse Speaking Choir reached at least half way across the nation this week with the receipt of a letter from Ernest E. Brown, president of Northwestern State Teacher's college in Oklahoma, extending a tentative invitation for the group to visit them, and asking for details of the program.

Addressed to Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, the letter stated in part, "The enthusiasm with which it has been recommended, prompts me to think about the possibility of bringing your choir out through this country."

Miss Margaret Douglas, Speech department instructor-director of the choir, who directed the recent San Jose Players' comedy success, "Storm in a Teacup", said possibilities of such a trip would be investigated, but that nothing definite could be stated yet as to the proposal.

WAA Banquet Tonight Will Help Children

Tonight's the night! All women who have not purchased tickets for the 16th annual WAA banquet to be held tonight at 5:45 in the main dining room of the Hotel Sainte Claire, may still buy them today from Mrs. Myrtle Calkins, in the gym.

Dean Mary Yost from Stanford who was to be speaker for the affair, will be unable to attend because of illness. A new speaker has not been announced.

Decorations for the room will be the "Old and New" idea. Dancing and entertainment will also be included in the program, according to Emily Currier, student in charge. Ruby Seimers is WAA president.

Students are asked to bring the traditional gift which will be given to needy children at Christmas.

Otterstein Conducts College Symphony Tomorrow Night In First Appearance Of Season

Making its debut for the current season, the San Jose State college symphony orchestra, under the direction of Adolph W. Otterstein, will appear tomorrow evening in the Morris Dailey auditorium. Considered by many critics to be one of the finest orchestras in the country, the symphony is scheduled to begin at 7:45 p.m.

Guest soloist for the evening will be Paul Lanini, violin student, who will play the Concerto in G Minor by Bruch on a violin personally constructed in his father's workshop. Lanini is the son of Alfred Lanini, local violin manufacturer.

Oh Mistletoe! Oh Mistletoe! You come but once a year.

a host of Spartan Daily lassies have been waiting for all quarter.

POOR PONY
Pandemonium and bedlam (those twin brothers) broke loose Friday afternoon in the Spartan Daily office when Pony Swenson found himself under a cluster of Mistletoe placed about the ceiling during lunch hour by the femmes.

NO ESCAPE

A chase of the chaste ensued out through the door; but alas, the door was locked before hand and Mistletoe had been placed over the doorway which Swenson didn't realize as he frantically attempted to get out!

Three girls were injured!

Radio Society In 'Alviso Fashions'

"Fashion Show at Alviso" is the title of the radio program to be presented by new members of the Radio Speaking Society at a meeting tonight at 7:30 in Room 165. With a cast including all the neophytes, the entertainment features Raber Davenport as the announcer, Violet Rhoten as the fashion commentator, and Bob Tremaine as the mayor.

Miss Eileen Brown, president of the society, urges as many members as possible, both old and new, to attend tonight's gathering.

SWEENEY Education Instructor Home From Hospital

William Sweeney, San Jose State college education instructor, who was operated on November 22 for acute appendicitis, left the hospital Thursday and returned home.

According to Mrs. Sweeney, he is well on the way to recovery and will be back at school at the beginning of next quarter.

Ferdinand The Bull IS FAVORITE TOY Beneath Staff Tree

By BEN FRIZZI

Aw nuts! We never have any more fun around here!

So moan the scribes of the Spartan Daily, who have been remonstrated by head-man Dwight Bentel of the Journalism department not to play with the toys under the Christmas tree in the Daily office.

DON AND FERDINAND
"Ferdinand the Bull" is the favorite of the scribes. Even Don Walker, Pacific Coast heavyweight boxing champ, was caught playing with "Ferdinand" by the "headman", who gave Don a calling down.

NO MORE FUN
"Aw gosh. 'It's fun to wind up Ferdinand and watch him play with the flowers under the tree all day," argues Don.

"Yeh," chime in the rest of the scribes.

But Bentel (the monster) has laid down the law, and now a sign appears which states in no uncertain terms:

"DO NOT PLAY WITH THE TOYS". (And that does mean you)

Q. Do you think that women student body officers should be abolished?

A. Eunice Pacheco, sophomore from Hollister:

No. I think that women should be allowed to hold offices, although I realize that men have the greater intelligence and executive ability, and will probably dominate the majority of the offices.

A. Bill Craddock, sophomore from Los Gatos:

Yes. What's the use of electing a woman to an office when they are never more than a figure head anyway.

A. Barbara Crawford, freshman from Madera:

No. A minority of women office holders serves to show the men that they are not entirely dominant, and gives the school some of the women's viewpoints.

A. Betty Bigger, freshman from Willow Glen:

No. Women have just as much ability as men. Any attempt to remove them from office is ab-

State Seniors In Surprise Marriage

Robert Lemmon and Mary Cordelia Wilcoxson, San Jose State college students, are now "Mr. and Mrs." The couple were married Thanksgiving day in Reno, but didn't announce the fact until Saturday.

Both are seniors at college. Lemmon is working for a teaching credential in general elementary, and Mrs. Lemmon is working for a special degree in art. The two met while Lemmon was working at the YWCA and his new wife was working there.

solutely unjustified.

A. Faxon Bishop, freshman from Los Gatos:

Yes. I think that the men should dominate the school, and keep the women in a state of suppression. If I had my way, I wouldn't even let them vote. They don't vote intelligently anyway, as they are too easily swayed by their emotions, rather than their judgement.

Europe has again got the jitters, due to the "unauthorized" demonstration in Italy's parliament, in which Mussolini's deputies openly demanded the return of former Italian territories. For a while it looks as if another crisis was brewing, but the whole incident is quickly subsiding, and will be chalked up as a sporadic outburst of overzealous "patriots".

Mussolini's purpose in causing this cannot be easily understood. Probably he just wants the world to know that there still is Italy to consider.

Cherokees Favored To Scalp Stooze Five For Intramural Basketball Championships

Climaxing a successful campaign, tomorrow's battle between the highly touted Stoozes and the powerful Cherokees brings to a close the intramural basketball tournament.

The Cherokees, by virtue of their 18 to 17 victory over the Flits on Thursday, have been made slight favorites to win tomorrow's game and the intramural title. Staging one of the greatest uphill fights in basketball competition the Cherokees have again revamped their lineup in order to stop the towering Stoozes from hitting the hoop too often.

With sharpshooting Bull Lewis in the starting lineup, the Cherokees have a serious threat that may break up the ball game any time. Lewis, who has been a constant thorn to all who have faced him this year, is the man the Stoozes must stop if they expect to take the title.

After a week's layoff, the Stoozes, who average better than six feet in height, return to the campaign with a rejuvenated starting lineup and a new offense. The Stoozes expect to play their best game of the season against the Cherokees tomorrow.

Yearling Seals Win Final Game, Title

The Spartan Seals wound up the 1938 season with a flourish Thursday night, by defeating the San Francisco Central YMCA 10-1.

This victory gave the yearlings the championship of the second division, Bay Cities Waterpolo League, with a score of 17 games won to only one defeat.

Goals for the Seals were made by Hood, Bartels, Hatch, Takahashi, Pillsbury and Hall.

Nippons Sparkle In First Match On Foreign Soil

The barnstorming Japanese All-Star wrestling team, scheduled to meet the San Jose State college grapplers the first week in January, defeated the Inglewood Wrestling and Judo team, 20 to 6, in their initial appearance in this country, last week.

Inglewood has one of the strongest A.A.U. teams in the country being former Jr. National Champions. Mel Bruno and Fortune Masdeo, San Jose State wrestlers who competed against the All-Stars in Japan, are both former members of the Inglewood club.

The Nipponese team has two more meets in So. California before traveling east to meet the best collegiate competition available. Matches are scheduled with Kansas State, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, and an unnamed opponent in New Orleans.

Upon returning to the coast, the Japanese will meet San Jose State in a final meet before returning to Japan January 9.

Local Quintet Seeking Second Practice Win

Successful in their first attempt of the early season basketball campaign, Coach Bill Hubbard's varsity cagers travel to Palo Alto tonight for a game with Stanford's "B" squad.

Under arrangements for the game, Hubbard will be limited to his "B" squad, if such a team exists. With only four members of last year's title winning squad on hand, and only one of those a regular starter, the Spartans will probably have trouble deciding just who falls into this classification.

attempt to convert failed.

A few minute later captain-elect Bob Titchenal blocked an Hawaiian punt and recovered the ball in the end zone. Carleton Peregoy attempted the conversion, but this same Kaulukukui rushed in to bat the pass down and bring victory to the Deans.

A technical decision was decided in favor of the home team when one of the Hawaiian players intercepted a pass in his own end zone only to be dropped by Bob Berry for what the officials called a touchback.

Although satisfied with the first showing of the local quintet, Hubbard will expect to see improved floor work and ball handling tonight. He was still undecided on Friday as to whether the Spartans were slightly better than he expected or Watsonville was just a poor opponent.

San Jose is scheduled to encounter the Stanford varsity Saturday night and will face several other teams in practice tilts before opening the conference season against College of Pacific January 4 in Stockton.

CLASSIC ECONOMY UNDESIRABLE

By HARRY GRAHAM

"The government will interfere with business even if the Republicans come into power in 1940—even in the event that Hoover was re-elected," Dr. Victor N. Hunt, social science instructor, said yesterday.

NO INTERVENTION

In his 18th century "Wealth of Nations", Adam Smith, a classical economist, declared the ability of society to function without government intervention.

"Control will be restricted," Hunt pointed out, "but any government is obliged to interfere with business if economic chaos is to be avoided."

NO GOOD REASONS

Legal, moral, and economic protests to government ownership or control are still unable to present sound reasons against it, according to Hunt.

"The protests on the grounds that liberty is being curtailed, private property confiscated, etc. are primarily unsubstantial," he explained. "The idea of property today is not what it was back in the 1700's when the policy of 'laissez faire' was formulated."

STOOGES BEAT BRAVES FOR INTRAMURAL TITLE

CHAMPS' PASSING ATTACK UPSETS BEWILDERED CHEROKEE QUINTET

By FRANK BONANO

Championship of the intramural basketball tournament went to the Mighty Stooges Tuesday afternoon, when they defeated the powerful Cherokee quintet, 23 to 13, in the biggest upset of the season. The Stooges, displaying a brilliant passing attack and a first class floor game, had the Cherokee five completely off their feet before the final gun ended the game. Taking advantage of their height, the Stooges used long cross-court passing so effectively that the bewildered Cherokees found themselves trailing, 15 to 0, at half time.

Returning to the floor in the second half, the Cherokees showed indications of their old form once more. They took complete command of the playing in the early stages of the second half, and tried to make a good fight out of it. With Bull Lewis bottled up, the Cherokees had to rely on a wild floor game that proved very effective. Centering all their attention on Bull, the Stooges stopped the opposing running and passing attack cold.

The game proved to be one of the best of the current basketball tournament this quarter. The Stooges used Texdahl to do all the shooting, which resulted in his making 13 points and emerging high point man for the game. Anderson trailed close behind with five. Sasagawa and Bud Lewis made five and four points respectively for their team, but this was not sufficient to overcome the lead the Stooges had already piled up.

Ping Pong Tourney Postponed Until Next Quarter

According to word received from Coach "Tiny" Hartranft this week, the intramural ping pong tournament has been postponed until next week.

The tournament, which was scheduled to start last week, could not be held because a suitable place in which to hold the meet could not be found. More students signed up to play than was anticipated, thereby causing plans to be changed so that the large crowd could be better handled.

Leonard Herman is in charge, and anyone interested in playing may sign up with him this week or during the first week of the new quarter.

DeGroot Receives Invite For '40 Shrine Tilt; Seeks Dean Game Here In '39

Possibility of a second game in the Hawaiian Islands may postpone the departure of the San Jose State football team from Honolulu this Saturday, according to word received by Graduate Manager Gil Bishop from Coach Dud DeGroot early this week.

Defeated 13-12 in their game with the University of Hawaii last Saturday, the Spartans may stay over for a crack at the Townsies, if arrangements can be made before this week-end. The team was originally scheduled to sail for San Francisco December 10, arriving in the bay city Friday, December 16.

Omitted from the Shrine game next year, the Spartans today had an invite to return in 1940 for the benefit game. Fresno was given the bid for the '39 contest last week, marking the first time in four years that San Jose had not been offered a trip to Hawaii.

Meanwhile DeGroot continued to confer with Hawaiian officials as to the possibility of scheduling the Rainbows for a game here next year. The university eleven made a trip to the mainland this season, dropping close games to Denver and Fresno State.

Sportlighting the Spartans

By BEN JOHNSON

Swiftly passing in review before the spotlight is the 1938 edition of the San Jose State varsity and freshman water polo teams, champions in their respective leagues—Divisions 1 and 2 of the Bay Cities Water polo League.

It usually takes a good while for a new sport to build up in a college, and an even longer time to win a championship. Water polo at San Jose has been going five years. During that time, Coach Charlie Walker has developed two championship teams and in both the varsity and freshman divisions.

In 1937 the Bay Cities Water polo League was founded and the frosh poloists, led by Captain Dick Savage, captured the title in quick order, while their varsity brothers tied for the crown.

This season both the squads won undisputed title to the championship, and thus two years in succession Coach Walker and his Seals have brought fame and good fortune to San Jose State.

This year's varsity squad was captained by Martin Wempe who played good polo, while Frank Savage was the leading offensive player, scoring 23 points. Defensively, Clayde Horan and Dick Savage were outstanding, Horan at center back and Savage in the goal. The other varsity forward, Jim Curran, played brilliantly and he is only a sophomore.

For the frosh—the one big standout was co-captain John Hood. Nothing much more need be said. Hood was all any coach would want in the way of a player, and Coach Walker is definitely planning to use John next season. The frosh had 18 games scheduled this season and were victorious in 17 of them. The one defeat was taken in the Olympic club pool in San Francisco under several handicaps. Total points for the frosh this season was 121 with 47 being scored against them.

Co-captain John Hatch was another outstanding man. Although Hatch's playing was restricted to the goal, he acquitted himself quite well.

Next year should be another banner year for the water sport at San Jose State with practically all of the present varsity returning.

Good luck to you Charlie Walker and Frank Savage.

NOTICE

Will all those soccer men who had good fitting shoes and intend to go out for spring practice or competition next season please tag your shoes at Mr. Howell's office. Thanks. —Jud Stull, Sr. Mgr.

the Cubs, 5-1, scarcely before they had time to overcome the effects of the long bus ride. San Jose found the Uclans playing a tougher brand of ball than their cross-city cousins, but were able to eke out a 2-1 win Saturday.

Wins in the two season finales established the locals' record at 10 wins, 1 defeat, and four ties, and ran their scoring up to 60 points to the oppositions' 18.

The Macmen hung up their suits and hard-toed shoes this week with a second place in the Northern California Intercollegiate Soccer Conference to their credit. Sparta's warriors fell a scant game and a half short of overtaking the California Bears who copped the title for the second straight year.

Much of the Spartans' success can be attributed to the work of their fullback combination of Ham Hodgson and Ed Crotser, who hold the inside track for all-conference honors. Jack Marsh, whom Coach McDonald shifted from wing to center forward, found the new berth to his liking and led the team scoring for the season. Halfbacks Holtorf, Wiles, and Captain Harper also proved important cogs in the San Jose attack.

NOTICE

All women students who are taking P. E. this quarter must clean out by noon, Friday.
